EDWARD MINER GALLAUDET MEMORIAL LIBRARY
GALLAUDET COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

VOL. III, NO. 36
August 21, 1974

MEET THE CANDIDATES

For the first time, D.C. residents will be able to elect their own local government. You will have a rare opportunity to meet, see, hear and question the people who will be running Washington.

Clifford Alexander and Walter Washington, candidates for mayor, and Marion Barry, Julius Hobson, Carl Bergman and Rev. Jerry Moore, candidates for city councilmen at large, will be in the Gallaudet College Auditorium on Monday, August 26, at 8 p.m.

Interpreters will be provided. For further information, contact the Center for Continuing Education at ext. 602.

Be prepared for the September 10th primary. Know your candidates!

"SONG, SUNG, SIGNED" TO BE AIRED

Music has been considered a universal means of communication, except for the deaf.

In recent years, several groups -- Rock Gospel and Good Vibrations, for example -- have successfully demonstrated that music is not an art form exclusively for hearing people.

Cynthia Saltzman and a group of her friends from Gallaudet College have worked with WTOP-TV in producing a pilot program of music signed for a deaf audience. Equally enjoyable to a hearing audience, "Song, Sung, Signed" will be shown on WTOP-TV, Channel 9, on Sunday, August 25, at 7:30 p.m.

A show not to be missed! Remember this is a pilot program, and your response will determine the future of programming for the deaf. Please tell your friends to watch the show and drop WTOP a line or give the station a call following the broadcast. Your reactions will count!

CAMPUS PARKING

Parking during the fall semester will be further curtailed due to campus construction. Temporary parking lots are being or will soon be built adjacent to the Auditorium lot and in the vicinity of MSSD.

All students and members of the faculty and staff are urgently requested to use these new parking facilities rather than parking improperly or dangerously i.e. obstructing fire lanes, building entrances, and crosswalks.

Staff and faculty are requested to sacrifice convenience when parking areas are filled and use the newly constructed lots. Your cooperation and understanding will be appreciated until our parking problems can be fully resolved.

KDES STUDENTS MADE TV APPEARANCE

Five Kendall School children were the guest stars on WMAL-TV's "Open Door" last Friday morning. Accompanying the students were Denis Cokely and Beth Bagwell, teachers at Kendall.

A daily children's show, Friday's "Open Door" program was devoted to developing an awareness of deafness and the use of sign language. In addition to interpreting the entire program, Denis told the story of "Three Billy Goats Gruff" in signs to the young viewing audience. Beth demonstrated games that are used as learning activities at Kendall.

AROUND AND ABOUT

--The Community Service Center for the Hearing Impaired has installed an answering and information service which can be called Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. by dialing 635-2155. This is both a voice and TTY service.

--The Prince George's County Free Clinic will have a deaf person on duty every Friday evening to provide services for deaf clients. The clinic -- located in the United Methodist Church at 910 Addison Street in Seat Pleasant -- offers general medical care, birth control consultation, pregnancy testing, prenatal care and assistance with VD and drug problems.

--Ms. Barbara Robinson of the University of Western Ontario has been on campus this summer studying sign language and conducting research on some aspects of visual perception and cerebral processing in deaf and hearing persons. This research has been carried out in cooperation with the Linguistics Research Lab and the Department of Psychology.

--The National Congress of Jewish Deaf held its convention in New York City last week. Gerald Burstein was elected the association's new president. Linda Argule, a member of the Class of 1977, was selected first runner-up in the Miss Jewish Deaf Contest with Karyn Rosner, a recent Gallaudet graduate, placing as second runner-up.

SAFETY AND SECURITY

The Department of Safety and Security is primarily responsible for the protection of lives and property on campus through the enforcement of applicable Federal and D.C. laws and College regulations and policies.

The Department is directed by the chief of Safety and Security with the assistance of a 21 person staff, all of whom are commissioned as special police officers by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department.

Uniforms and equipment are designed to project a low police profile. The campus is scanned by six closed circuit television cameras and all personnel carry two-way radios.

In addition to law enforcement, personnel are alert to unsafe conditions; defective systems, water and electricity, for example; fires; unauthorized persons on campus and building security. They provide many services to the campus community -- locking and unlocking doors and buildings, protecting valuables, returning lost and found property, transporting sick and injured people and acting as a liaison with local police.

The campus community can render an invaluable service to Safety and Security and to themselves by: securing all rooms, offices, etc.; recording serial numbers and trade names of valuables, careful selection of persons invited to the campus; mutual concern for the safety and security of others; and reporting of any suspicious persons immediately to the Department. Safety and Security can be reached at ext. 637.

ON THE GREEN is published by the Office of Alumni and Public Relations. Next issue: September 4.
